FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The International Pet and Animal Transportation Association (IPATA), the world's pet shipping experts awarded its 2025 Millie Woolf Memorial Leadership Award to Dr. David Landers of AirVets Pet Relocation.

The Millie Woolf Memorial Leadership Award was established to honor Millie Woolf, one of the six founding members of IPATA, who was the driving force that made IPATA the international network of professionals that it is today.

The recipient of this prestigious award is a person, company, or association that exemplifies "I Gave It My Best" by providing support, or developing opportunities that advance the professionalism of individuals involved in the safe and humane transport of animals.

David joined IPATA in 2010 and has served on the board of directors and participated in a number of committees and task force initiatives. He currently serves as IPATA's Treasurer.

Dr. Landers was instrumental in helping establish the IPATA Brachycephalic Certification Program (BOAS), an IPATA training program on the transportation of Brachycephalic breeds, which has a specialized group of veterinarians qualified to perform Fit to Fly Assessments, allowing more animals to fly while ensuring the safety of those that shouldn't.

He is a graduate of Texas A&M University College of Veterinary Medicine. He has a special interest in canine and feline medicine, as well as exotic animal medicine, including a wide range of species, from birds, small mammals, and reptiles to primates, large cats, and occasionally hoof stock such as zebras and camels.

He has been providing the unique service of international pet relocation, moving animals around the world daily. He also currently serves as a Battalion Commander in the Texas State Guard Medical Brigade.

IPATA presented its 2025 awards at its International Conference in Bangkok, Thailand, in November.

About IPATA

The International Pet and Animal Transportation Association (IPATA) is a non-profit, worldwide trade association for animal handlers, pet moving providers, kennel operators, veterinarians and others who are dedicated to the care and welfare of pets and animals during transport. The organization was founded in 1979. It began with six founding members and now has nearly 500 members in over 90 countries, servicing over 700 airports. IPATA serves its members, the pet transport industry, and the public at large. For more information, or to find a professional pet shipper, visit www.ipata.org.
